Biography

I am a technology enthusiast, since I started my working career at the age of 18. I have gone through various work areas, I must tell you that my career did not begin in the world of software development, but rather my Master of Works degree gave me the opportunity to work with CAD plan drawings. Little by little, that took me to vector illustration moving on to video animations. That fueled my curiosity so that in 2019 I began in a self-taught way at first to dedicate myself to the world of frontend web development, until a very short time later I went through full stack web development.

Professional experiences

2019-PRESENT

Freelancer en Fiverr

My first professional experiences in the world of development was through the famous fiverr platform, and I can tell you that it was more than successful, for what I had planned. You can check my profile www.fiverr.com/crisgonzalez94. I have collaborated on more than 40 projects, I have 5 star ratings with more than 48 ratings and I am already in the category of fiverr qualified freelancer, in addition to passing all their development skills and language tests on the platform.

Freelancer.

In addition to working on fiverr (I have put it first because it is the most verifiable). I also work independently promoting my work on social networks and I have carried out some projects that I will comment on the most outstanding in the projects section.

2022

Goohaus

Goohaus is a Chilean Startup that is dedicated to the real estate market and also offers home decoration services. My work at goohaus was, together with a colleague, to build two web applications, one with a similar functionality to free market, but real estate, and another that was a game that helped clients choose their ideal decorative style. The applications were built with Laravel version 8, with a mysql database, vuejs for the frontend, sass and bootstrap for styling. Being a small development team, the task we had was practically fullstack. My partner has been dedicated to the database and the backend related to it (Controllers, models, orm... etc) as well as he has been dedicated to user registration and site integrity. I have dedicated myself to the frontend built with vuejs and to the most superficial part of the laravel backend. But both my partner and I did not have an assigned role and I have sometimes contributed to the data model as my partner did to the frontend, that allowed me to learn a lot from my partner who was much more experienced than me. I hope I have added value to goohaus, the value that this work brought to me.
